

Each election cycle, Catholic Citizenship publishes Position Papers, to help educate about a candidate's stance on issues. The papers include: life, marriage, religious freedom, taxes, and parental rights issues. The questions, that are included in the position paper, deal with current issues. More specifically, issues listed in our most recent publication were: the definition of marriage, public accommodations in the transgender law, defunding abortion services, lowering the state sales tax, and repealing the automatic gas tax increase.
